Subject: Upshot Lane development

I would like to add my feelings regarding the above development. We moved to the Lovelace area from Byfleet at the time the M25 opened. Compared to the noise of the motorway it was so peaceful with our garden home to many small birds.

Unfortunately we have lost many varieties over the years. This year being the first in nearly 30 years no bluetits nested.

Frequently we saw little owls off Sandy Lane. Will we lose more with the proposed development?

Parking around the local school is a nightmare at present without the increase in numbers proposed. Increase in traffic and the related noise will obviously increase.

Doctors are finding it difficult to cope and West Byfleet parking is already difficult.

Wisley gardens will be affected by noise and traffic pollution.

We will no longer be able to call Pyrford a village.
