Future Proposed Development Plans for Green Belt Land

I am writing to object - most strongly - about the above.

Up to 592 houses - plus a school at Broadoaks. Most people these days have two cars, which means up to 1000 cars pouring on to Pains Road - plus parents delivering their children to the proposed school. Pains Road is already congested as it is - how will it cope with all the extra vehicles? It would also be chaos in the centre of West Byfleet, and people living here in Dartnell Park would find it extremely difficult to get on to the main road.

As to up to 592 buildings proposed at West Hall in the future begats belief.

Yours faithfully
Holley Britten
