Please give us your comment	I am very strongly opposed to the proposed use of Green Belt Land around West Hall, West Byfleet for housing and potentially commercial uses. The main concern is the increase in the volume of traffic along the Parvis Road, plus the pressure that this will put on existing infrastructure such as the doctors surgeries. In addition, we have very little natural green space in West Byfleet, and the curtilage to the Wey Navigation to the north of the land at West Hall as well as being of historic importance is very precious and is enjoyed by walkers, runners and cyclists as well as canoeists and narrow boat owners on the water. The Wey Navigation is a manmade water way owned and maintained by the National Trust but constructed some 350 years ago. Any development on the West Hall land would have an enormous impact upon this waterway which is also an important wild life corridor where deer, swan, kingfishers and other species have established habitation. It is of utmost importance that we take our environmental responsibilities seriously and that the ambiance of this area is protected for future generations to enjoy.

The Dodd's Lane track, part of which runs along the southern boundary of West Hall land, is also used by families for cycling, dog walking, running etc. to access the Wey Navigation footpath and is another area of natural beauty that should be protected.

Stealing green belt for additional housing is just not right.

Do not build on the green belt.
