Subject: 400+ housing development in Pyrford

Dear Douglas Spinks,

I am shocked and outraged by the imposition of building 400+ houses. The proposal of building this many new houses horrifies me, destroying valuable farming space and free wild life some how angers me, think of what the green belt will become.

Pyrford is a quite peaceful village that inhabits a welcoming population, this will be destroyed, only to create another "depressed town". I am sure there are many other developments which are in much more need.

Pyrford is a gem in Surrey, this new development will create an eye sore and will mean housing prices to fall, surely this is a negative thing? I know that many families go to those fields to walk their dogs and to spend time with their families and building a large number of houses will remove these enjoyments, in a developing world greenery and natural areas are becoming endangered so you building 400+ houses are contributing to this global pollution.

I hope you have taken the time to read my objections as I honestly think this development is the wrong decision,
