Site UA23 Woking Railway Station interchange Woking
Objecting

Most developments i am supportive on in woking, i love the new victoria square, i love whats been done in commercial way, brewery road and jubilee square. I am 'for' a station upgrade, ideally something which stands out a bit from other stations, but i am against a rail flyover because i think it will reduce the number of services that stop at woking or at least increase the number that dont stop. Its good for the town to have lots of trains stopping at the station and whatever network rail say, the number of services that stop will reduce, theyre not going to build a flyover unless they plan to use it. Plus itll look awful. If anything build a tunnel.

Proposed modifications - Please explain what changes you consider should be made (for example, to the text, to the site boundary)

No flyover. Extend the station to the south, add more platforms. Some platforms could then effectively become through platforms for some trains. It will encourage more services to stop at woking which is good for the town. If you add tracks to the south you could use land where the car park is and compensate with a new multi story which is needed in the town anyway. More platforms could mean more destinations, too. Woking is well connected to Waterloo, but if we want to be seen as more than just a commuter town we need links to other places too. Compared to Reading and Guildford we don't have many services to other places. Encouraging a rail link to Heathrow would be massive for business. As for the rest of the proposals I am mostly for, although building on the Green Belt should be a last resort, and if it's going to be done, build on farmland, do not cut down forest areas. Also develop the road links in the borough! build a road between Lockfield Drive and the A319, to improve links to the M3. Finally, if you want to build a town to rival Reading, you need to develop more on the south side of the station. Having such low density housing so close to the town centre isn't the mark of a large town or city and it's a waste of space. It may be expensive to buy that land but that's the best way to build the town into a much larger and better one.

Supporting
A new road between Lockfield Drive and the A319 to improve links to the M3 significantly. Currently the route is very poor and takes a long time. Again, if we want to be taken seriously as a business centre, we need road links better than a village has. You should be able to get there without going down small roads with speed humps and mini roundabouts.

Better transport links to the rest of the country. If you improve links to the M3 j3 youre also improving links to the M4 and the whole south west which is important. We dont want to be seen as a dormitory town, a suburb of london, we want to encourage business with the whole country so lets create transport links to other places, eg reading and heathrow by train, gatwick by train or bus, road links to places other than the M25
